

Trade Finance Global

– a world of transactions in your hands

With Trade Finance Global you can enjoy one of the market's best e-solutions for trade finance transactions with the highest quality processing and advisory service.

TRADE FINANCE GLOBAL

Trade Finance Global is Nordea's online banking system for handling documentary collections, documentary credits, guarantees and standby L/Cs, for both import and export. Our modern and secure system supports all trade finance instruments including negotiation of guarantee text.

With Trade Finance Global, you can handle and monitor your trade finance transactions online – anywhere and anytime. Through a user-friendly interface, you can easily create applications and receive correspondence from Nordea, as well as gaining access to extensive report functions.

Global view – Cross-entity functionality

Trade Finance Global gives you a complete overview of all your trade finance transactions – globally.

This means that when fully implemented, all Nordea's Trade Finance units can be reached from one single point of entry, while Trade Finance Global covers all trade finance products and provides overall corporate visibility.

You have full access to all your entities worldwide and receive online updates on open deals, payments and fees. Access can be granted to several people regardless of geographical location, while all entities in your organisation can be viewed through the same channel.

Easy access with a user-friendly interface

Trade Finance Global is easy to access online and the user interface is clear, self-explanatory and simple to navigate.

You can communicate directly with Nordea's trade finance experts through the Trade Finance Global system where all previous correspondence is archived for reference. An e-mail notification informs when you have received a new incoming correspondence according to your individually defined events. The service is available 24/7.

Flexible and secure processing

All communication through Trade Finance Global is secure and encrypted and you decide which authorisations are given to whom across your company. You identify yourself when logging on, and all transaction data is saved and available when you need it.

Time and money saved

Automated processing supports fast, accurate transaction handling, so you can allocate resources more efficiently. This smooth handling of transactions and fast
